A reminder of information on the website:

In the event of cancellation before 19 February 2022, £100 is non-refundable. If we are informed of cancellation after 19 February 2022, none of the fee will be refunded. Registrations after 19 February 2022 will be accepted if there is space on the course.

Students will be responsible for their own medical insurance cover and are urged to take out insurance which fully covers them for damage or loss of their personal belongings for the entire duration of the course, including fees in the event of cancellation after the final payment date.

While we expect to run all the courses offered, the courses can only run if there is sufficient demand and we will notify students and parents as soon as possible if it looks likely that a course will not run after all. In which case switching subject or a full refund of course fees will be offered.
